THE CAUCUS SUSTAINED. "If," says the Chicago Evening Mail.

"Republicans are not to be removed because they are Republicans, but because of 'offensive partisanship,' it will be quite right and proper that the Republiean Senate should insist that 'offensive partisans' should not be appointed." This declaration is directly in line with the action of the Senatorial Caucus or "Conference" held by certain Republican Senators last spring, and that it is no idle. hap-hazard expression of opinion appears in the fact that Mr. Hatton, late Postmaster-General, and high in the confidence and councils of the Republican party leaders, is the man who gives utter-

It is a little singular that men of sense and sagacity should take a position so inconsistent and illogical, but they have done it nevertheless. Mr. Conger says 80 yery pointedly. Mr. Hatton occupies the same ground. They hold that there is a certain analogy between the partisanship of a politician in the field, working for the election of a party ticket, and the partisanship of another politician, who having been rewarded for his services with a Covernment position, contributes of his salary and perverts his official influence to keep his party in power.

There is really no kinship between the two cases, but in the absence of any other resource wherewith to harass and beabor the President, it occurred to the Republican Senators that this might be successfully utilized.

Whether the programme will be adhered to next December remains to be seen. Mr. Conger says that it will. Mr. I atton says that it ought to be.

"NO IDLERS WANTED."

A story is told by the New York Herald'. correspondent to the effect that the Presi dent recently declined to consider an ap plication for office on the ground that the applicant had been waiting in Washington to have his case disposed of since the 4th of March, and abruptly dismissed the man's friends with the sententions remark that "no idlers were wanted in the public

THE CRITIC is indisposed to believe that this romantic tale has even a foundation in fact, for the simple reason it is so unlike anything that a President with good, common sense, and a proper sense of justice, would be guilty of doing. It certainly does not follow, because a Demoerat came on to Washington to see Mr. Cleveland inaugurated, and with the further expectation of obtaining an appointment, concluded to remain here, that he thereby demonstrated his unfitness for official position, or laid himself open to the charge of being an "idler," a) the President is said to have put it.

The man was well vouched for, as the story goes, so well indeed that Mr. Cleveland had concluded to appoint him. Whether he had business at home which required his attention, we can say, withcut disrespect to the Chief Magistrate, was none of the Chief Magistrate's business. Even if he had no occupation at all, as is the case with a good many worthy but unfortunate people just now, it would be n evidence of his laziness or inefficiency. He might have been staying here because it was the cheaper and wiser thing to do, and a just President would have been quite as apt to consider his petition favor ably, upon the theory that the Government does want economical men in th service, as to reject it upon the other assumption that it does not want men who are lazy.

It is pretty safe to say-at any rate it is much more agreeable to presume-that nothing of the kind occurred as related by the correspondent, and that the whole narrative is but the fabric of a midsummer vision. To esteem it otherwise would be to credit the President with having lest his wits.

REVISITING THE CAPITAL.

Hon. Lyman K. Bass, now of Colorado, has been in the city a couple of days and is stopping at the Arlington. He is making social visits to the White House, having formerly been President Cleveland's law partner in Buffalo. Mr. Bass is remembered favorably by the progressive element of our citizens as an influential member of Congress from Buffalo, N. Y., when the new District Government was organized here. He was a member of the House Committee of the District of Columbia during the days of the District Board of Works, and ren dered efficient legislative aid to that body in the execution of their comprehensive plan of District improvements.

Mr. Bass, as well as other Congressmen who were favorable to the work of regen erating the Nation's Capital, received un stinted abuse from the guerrilla press o the country, who proclaimed that the city was being rained and the property of the citizens destroyed by the "so-cilled" improvement inaugurated and pushed forward by the energetic Board of. Works under the guiding genius of Alex. R. Shepherd. Since his arrival here Mr. Base has driven about the city and suburbs and is perfectly amazed at the wonderful progress which has resulted from that comprehensive plan of improvements to which he, as a national legislator, gave all the influence and encourage ment in his power. It is with gratifying personal as well as national pride that he now looks upon the vast development and substantial prosperity of the District and its citizens, which is the direct result of the changes in the government of the District, and the hold and energetic labors of the Board of Works in redeeming and regenerating the Capital City of the Republic from its previous existence as a stench in the

Mr. Bass considers it now as the most beautiful and attractive city on the conti-nent, if not in the world, with an assurance of further advancement apace with its wonderful progress of the past fifteen years.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND does not regard the term of District Commissioner West as expiring until to-morrow, the third anniversary of the day on which he actually assumed office. There is every indication that he will be ready to announce his successor very promptly. It is said that he gave the subject some formal consideraion last evening, but reached no concludon. The gossips are ready with their predictions, although they have only the most fragile foundation for speculation. Messrs, Coffey, Clagett, Willard, Galt, Gardner, Hillyer and many others are spoken of with equal positiveness by their friends as the coming Commissioner. THE Russian Government, having bulldozed the late English Ministry into acpuiescence with its demands and secured peace based upon the pleasure of the Czar, appears to be playing the same game on the new Ministry with a view to ascer taining whether Salisbury will stand as much brow-beating as Gladstone did. The reported Russian advance in Afghanistan s probably in the nature of a feeler, and the statement of Randolph Churchill that England would assist the Ameer in case he asked for assistance, goes to indicate that the nonsense in this instance will not be long protracted. THAT General Mahone still has the whip-hand of the Republican party in Virginia is evident from the proceedings of the State Convention at Richmond ves terday, in which he had everything his own way, while Governor Cameron was nowhere. The notable feature of the occasion was the reconciliation of Mahon and Riddleberger, who shook hands, fell into each other's arms and made peace; after which ensued one of the sweaties love-feasts in the history of political con-

It would be a matter of some interest to know by what authority Speaker Carlisle 'designates" anybody to perform the duties of Doorkeeper of the House of Representatives, in place of Mr. Wintersmith. The Doorkeeper's office is an elective one to begin with, and there is no law providing for a vacancy occurring while Congress is not in session. Besides that, Mr. Carlisle is not Speaker. The Republican is decidedly off.

THE report of the statistician of the De partment of Agriculture, showing the condition of the growing crops on the 1st. nstant, is just out and makes a pamphlet of 64 pages. Considering that the reports of county correspondents, which furnish the data for it, only began to come in two weeks ago, it is evident that the work of preparing it for publication must have been pushed with vigor.

Just as lots of nice people have begun to enjoy themselves at Lake Minnetonka, and there is plenty of ice on hand for lemonade and things, the Prohibitionist propose to hold a convention there, but General Sherman stoutly refuses to postpone his visit.

The McLean Idea.

Said John R. McLean to the reporter of the Cincinnati Times-Star at Saratoga: the Cincinnati Times-Star at Saratoga:

'President Cleveland may not please us all, but it looks to me as if he was a shrewd politician after all. He has, I think, manifested a desire to be grateful. Consider his first appointments. There is Manning. He was chairman of the New York delegation at Chicago. Whitney was second best man in the centre of the delegates. Garland was the only Senator besides Gorman who was for Cleveland, and the only one who brought his State up solid. Look at Malcom Hay and his successor, Stevenson, who prevented the break to Hendricks when the Illinois delegation commenced to waver. Then there break to Hendricks when the Illinois dele-gation commenced to waver. Then there was John C. Black, and Vilas, who was chairman of the Convention. All the big guns were rewarded first. It really does seem, after a survey of the Cabinet alone that the President is a wise politician. He has certainly drawn about him politicians of practical ability. Bayard was appointed in deference to sentiment alone."

n deference to sentiment alone, Fashlen Notes from the Far West. In the Heppner hills this season the recherche thing in overalls is to have the pocket corners braided in lieu of the copper rivets that were in regal last season. They are worn either stuffed into the boots or outside.

An asthetic rustic substitute for a button is a shingle-nail or piece of sharpened stick poked through a gaitns hole. This style is popular on some ranches, but it is a bad thing to fall down on.—[Heppner (Oregon) Gazette.

Two Surprised Ladies.

One of the most singular, most amusing, and at the same time, for the victims, most annoying robberies, occurred in our city Saturday. Two elderly ladies on Michigan street were looking at the circus procession pass by. So intent were they in gazing upon the dazzling pageant that not only their eyes but their mouths were wide open, and while in this awe-struck condition they were each startled by the stap of a rough hand over their mouths. Of course they were mad, and looked around with great indignation to see who could be guilty of such a rude act, and it was not until they attempted to speak, in order to properly express their wrath, that they discovered their false teeth were gone. The thieves had looked into their wide-open mouths and saw that the plates containing the teeth were of gold, and they containing the teeth were of gold, and they wanted them.—[South Bend Tribune,

A Much Needed Reform. A Much Needed Reform.

The average soda water dispenser, is nothing if not sloppy, says the New Orleans Times-Bemoerat. His ways and means of cleaning glasses are in many instances positively dirty, and his catabilishment is filled with odors nearly akin to a stench. A reform in the matter of general cleanliness is badly needed. The boy must go, and a professional artist of the latest and most improved type must take the over-worked and unity little fellow's place. Then we will not be drowned out every time seda is indulged in by the fuirsty souts.

A Rich Streak of Luck. "I understand your son is married, Mrs

AN ODE TO THE SPRINKLER.

Through the sultry, dusty day.
The sprinkling sprinklers sprinks his way, sprinkling sprinklers everywhere Without a bother or a care, in vain the sprinkler sprinkling hoots, Recause the sprinkler sprinks his boots. In vain do sprinkler sprinkles suffer, And vow disaster to the duffer That sprinkling sprinkler sprinkles on I'util his regular sprink is done.
